ABUTADI Secondary School is under the direction of Sir Benedict ODONGO, who is a history and geography teacher.

The school has four different levels : Senior 1 which is equivalent of the year « cinquième » in France, Senior 2 (« quatrième »), Senior 3 (« troisième »), and Senior 4 (« seconde »).

There is one class per level.

The school year starts around February and finishes around the end of November. There are three terms in the year. Their summer holidays are between December and January because there, the hottest weather is at that time.

The school has four available classrooms, one per level, and there is a laboratory for the physics and chemistry practicals.

There is also a boarding school with two dormitories,
- one for the girls - one for the boys

At the moment due to complicated weather, drought and famine only 70 students are remaining in school, as school in Uganda has to be paid for by families.

Currently, since August 2019, the school has a well, it's a real asset to the school. Before then, students had to walk to fetch water at the community borehole.
